

guest curator

Ma(i)sonry Napa Valley, Yountville

"Owner Michael Polenske has found a way to illuminate the things that he's passionate about—fine wine, art and antiques—all in a stacked-stone house from 1904."

Indian Springs Resort & Spa, Calistoga

"This is where you'll find the real deal: the centuries-old procedure of volcanic ash mud baths. Everything about the Calistoga resort and spa has a vintage feel."

Napa Valley Olive Oil Manufacturing Company, St. Helena

"This Italian market in a little whitewashed barn has been around since 1962. I love giving the olive oil ($16) to my houseguests."

The Swanson Shoppe, Rutherford

"Like a candy store for adults, the super-stylish tasting room for Swanson Vineyards is reinvigorating the age-old rituals of wine."

Uptown Theatre, Napa

"Recently restored to its original glory, it brings acts such as Chrissie Hynde, Lyle Lovett, Marshall Tucker and the Gypsy Kings to Napa."

Big Dipper Ice Cream Parlor, St. Helena

"It serves up ice cream cones, sundaes, root beer floats and sno-balls in a period-perfect setting that includes 1950s furnishings."

Acme Fine Wines, St. Helena

"I send all of my friends to the wine shop. They sell teeny production boutique wines and offer a selection of impeccably edited bottles for their club members."

Napa Nostalgia

Alexis Swanson Traina, creative director of Swanson Vineyards, is an old soul. Here she reveals her list of Wine Country's charming, under-the-radar relics that are not only surviving, but also thriving.

Gott's Roadside, St. Helena

"This burger joint is instant Napa to me and makes every day of summer feel like the Fourth of July. I crave the regular burger with extra secret sauce."